Martin quits Sierra Madre city attorney post

Charles Martin, part-time Sierra Madre city attorney since 1958, resigned his post Aug. 29 in a letter to City Councilmembers stating the following:

As I have informed some of you personally, my career plans now call for me to concentrate my efforts on fewer cities.

Accordingly, I find it necessary to resign from my 20 year plus tenure with Sierra Madre effective in 30 days.

I have thoroughly enjoyed our association and regret that other arrangements didn't work out.

Very truly yours,
Charles Martin

The News contacted three City Councilmembers, who are in town, for their response. Mayor Clem Bartolai and Lisa Fowler are out-of-town until mid-week.

Mayor Pro Tem Tom Edwards said: "The letter of resignation was to have been expected since as the council had been apprised that under Martin's contract with South Pasadena he would only be allowed to represent one other town and that would be as a combination city manager or city administrator and city attorney."

Edwards indicated that due to microphone difficulties at last week's City Council meeting he was submitting a letter to the News for next week's edition to be sure the public "has all the information" regarding his motion to the council for a part-time city administrator.

Edwards was referring to the motion he made at last week's City Council meeting. The motion suggested Sierra Madre hire Martin as part-time city administrator. The motion died when no other councilperson seconded it.

Carlyle Griffin, Mayor of Sierra Madre last year, said, "It's unfortunate he's (Martin) going to resign which I presume is part of a new deal he has with the city of South Pasadena. It certainly will cost us more money (to replace Martin) and I don't think we'll have the expertise we'd have with Charlie. Personally, I don't know if we'll get a city attorney on a regular basis or merely hire one when it's absolutely necessary."

When asked if Griffin believes Martin's decision was precipitated by what happened at last week's meeting, he answered, "No. In general discussions with Martin, he indicated he would not ever be in a negotiating position as long as we had a city manager."

Former Mayor Charles Corp said, "I think Charlie Martin has been a fine city attorney and a great friend. We'll miss him. He's phasing out some of his activities. He wrote the book. We'll miss Charlie. He's been very fair to us."

Did Martin's decision have anything to do with the results of last week's City Council meeting?

Corp answered, "Charlie was not seeking the job as part-time city administrator in Sierra Madre so far as I know."

Martin has been under fire recently for his activities in so many cities. After two resignations, he is still city manager, city attorney, redevelopment agency director and agency attorney in Irwindale and Azusa as well as South Pasadena. He has also been filling the posts of city attorney in both Sierra Madre and Temple City.

He recently signed a three-year contract with South Pasadena with one stipulation: that he cease working for all but one other city besides South Pasadena.

South Pasadena will pay him $75,000 a year. He receives $82,000 from Irwindale and $75,000 from Azusa. He has been getting $23,900 from Temple City and received about $4800 last year from Sierra Madre.

Martin did not return any of the calls to the News placed to various cities in which he works.

Patty Rush adopts park, paints swings

When Patty Rush announced to her husband that she and their 3-year-old daughter were going to paint the swing set in the park at the top of Mountain Trail, her husband warned her she might be arrested by the local police.

Not so, said Patty, who pointed to a recent piece in the Sierra Madre News describing an "Adopt-a-Park" program being spearheaded by the Parks and Recreation Commission. She showed her husband the article, then looked over the paint in the garage. Hunter green and rust would do well, she decided.

Last week Patty, Allison and their dog, Pachi, spent a couple hours getting paint-streaked but putting more paint on the shining swing set. When the News reporter got there, they were just cleaning up ready to go home to lunch.

"Recently I realized that someone had painted the concrete turtle. When I saw how great that looked now with its green and yellow paint, I thought, 'Gosh, 'I should paint the swing'."

Who painted the turtle? "Who knows," shrugged Patty. "But maybe we should ask that the anonymous painters come forward to get recognition. Sierra Madre has such a great potential for even more voluntarism. People here are so friendly and so helpful. That's why we enjoy living here."

Her husband owns Arcadia Pools.

How about painting the slide? "By George, somebody else gets to do the slide, the horse and the ram," Patty grinned.

Do we have any volunteers?

Local hospital welcomes new acting hospital leader

Sierra Madre Community Hospital, recently merged with Methodist Hospital of Southern California in Arcadia, has a new administrator liaison.

"We haven't come up with an official title but that's what we're calling me for now," Tom Harris explains.

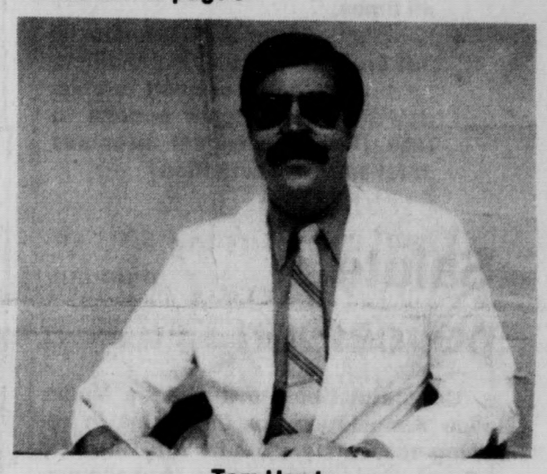

Harris, who is a registered nurse, is located here in the mornngs and returns to the Arcadia facility afternoons where he is Assistant Director of Special Care Nursing. In the latter role he is responsible for six units out of the 19 in the Arcadia hospital. He is retaining those responsibilities "50-50 for the time being," he explains.

Rick Hachten II, president and administrator of Methodist Hospital of Southern California, is CEO of both facilities, "Currently, the administration and personnel here are reporting to me. I anticipate we'll maintain that arrangement. This hospital is a new challenge with tremendous potential not only with its physical space but also recognizing things that can be done with this facility," Harris explains.

Have any decisions been made concerning the use of the Sierra Madre Community Hospital?

"The final decision of the usage of the facility is the decision to be made by the board of directors and it has not been made as yet," Harris says. "There are a couple of possibilities such as skilled nursing care which is similar to the care in a conva-

Attention: parents

Sierra Madrean Joan Reichert urges parents and students of Eliot Junior High to note the following statement, "If all our children ride the bus the first two weeks of classes, there is a chance that RTD will provide us with a non-transfer bus traveling the same route. There will also be paid supervision at school and at the transfer point of Lake and Washington."

● Friends who wish to write to Bonnie Jones may use the following address: P.O. Box 945, Grass Valley, CA 95945.

● Tensie Benson called Tuesday to tell us that her husband, Don, had double bypass heart surgery Friday and is out of intensive care at Huntington Hospital. When will he be home? Sometime next week, Tensie reports.

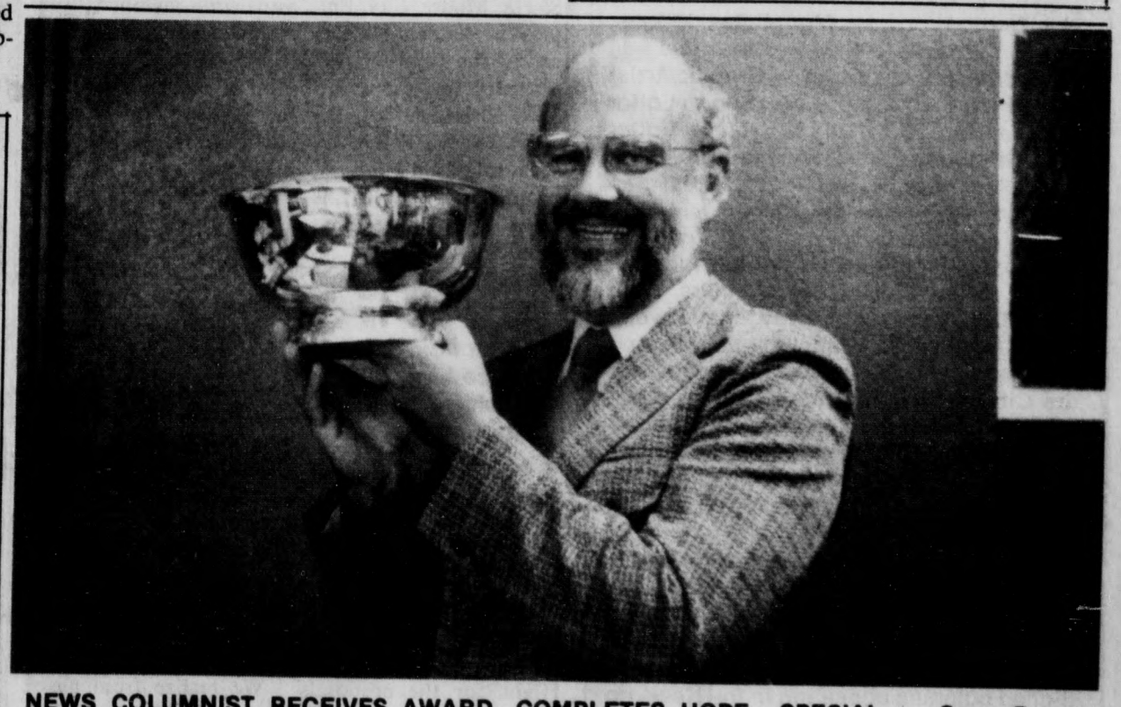

● Hugh Campbell tells us a bit of history that should interest the history buffs in town. His explanation answers some of the questions people are asking about the ancient printing on one of the exposed walls of the Buccaneer. The Bottle Shop is expanding into that area and there's a lot of building going on now.

Hugh descibes the sign painted on bricks —"rmacy" — which was actually Poage Pharmacy which opened Apr. 10, 1922 when the lot site of the Buccaneer and Bottle Shop was vacant. "The sign was painted before the pharmacy opened," Hugh says.

A short time later in the latter part of 1922, those two buildings were built abutting the pharmacy east wall and obscuring this sign for the past 61 years.

Hugh and Mary are researching and writing a history series to be printed in the Sierra Madree News at a future date. It should be most interesting . . .

● Rosette, our bookkeeper at the News, pointed out the other day that we have on staff a St. George, St. Paul, St. Peter, a St. Antonio and, she smiled, "a Santa Rosetta." We also have a Mary and Josseph. What happened to Nan and Shirley and Karen and . . .?

Be careful of crossing 'dears'

There will be many editorials written this week in anticipation of the beginning of the 1983-84 school year.

Most of the editorials bring the same message. Motorists must slow down around schools and be careful of children darting out of or into parents' cars or from school buses.

Over the summer months, most of us have developed a bad habit of zipping past school corners since no one was around. Now, however, youngsters are there to remind us that we need to beware and be careful.

Slow down. There are little dears crossing.

Caution: emergencies

Are you ready for emergencies?--- "Just in case."

Accidents happen, and when they do it's the wise person who is prepared. Knowing the basics of first aid and CPR are very important.

Other suggestions from the National Safety Council include:

- Maintain a well-equipped medicine cabinet.
- Keep a first aid kit in your work areas.
- Post emergency numbers and addresses near the telephone. Teach youngsters how to call for help.
- Carry emergency medical information in your wallet or purse at all times.
- If a family member or employee has an existing medical condition, such as diabetes or heart trouble, determine the proper actions to take if the individual becomes stricken by the condition.

Salute to policemen

Congratulations to the Sierra Madre Police Association for their part in resolving the salary dispute with the city of Sierra Madre. We're sure councilmembers are grateful to have the negotiations over, and we can speak as citizens of Sierra Madre in being glad for the police force in town.

As readers will note in another story in the News, a unique fundraiser for local policemen is being investigated at this time.

Lee Herring, a citizen of Sierra Madre, is attempting to bring an "Adopt-a-Cop" program to Sierra Madre. The concept of the program is good; however, because it is in its embryonic stage, there are many wrinkles to be ironed out.

This program is somewhat like a police foundation, as we understand it.

Keep watching the News for more information as the concept comes to life and the program unfolds into reality.

PERRET-SCOPE

by Gene Perret

Football season is starting up on TV again, and I've already prepared for it. I've said my goodbyes to the wife and kids.

During football season I have only 7 friends . . . Howard Cosell and a six-pack.

I don't want to know anybody unless they're wearing shoulder pads and a helmet.

I just set myself down and don't get my backfield in motion again until after the Super Bowl.

It's the American Husband's form of hibernation.

Sure we're fanatic about it, but housewives would be too if their soap operas only came on from September to January.

They'd get depressed, too, if they read in the papers that Opal came up with a knee injury on "All My Children" and was out for the rest of the season.

They'd sit there and watch every minute if they had $25 dollars bet on the outcome of Greg and Jenny's romance.

At least in football, they only have 30 seconds to get a play started. On the soap operas, sometimes it takes weeks.

And in football, when they do something wrong, they get penalized.

If they did that in soap operas, they'd have no stories.

So we husbands know that our beloved football season will end with someone crowned "Champion," but soap operas only end with "Tune in Tomorrow."

Public Forum

All city employees who are members of the Sierra Madre City Employee Association received the following letter from Sgt. Larry Lutzow, president of the sierra Madre Police Association. Sam Simpson, brough the letter to the News and reported that the "city yards boys" requested the letter be published in the News. Ed.

Letter from Police Association President to other city employees

In July and August, the Police Association approached you and offered to have your association and ours work together with our representative, to stand fast against the Council and fight for the proposals our respective associations wanted. As you know the Council's proposals were ludicrous, unfair and detrimental to good employee - employer relations.

Due to a lack of concern on the part of your association members, we received no response from you regarding our offer of assistance and in fact you settled with the city to accept their token offer.

It is with regret that I write this letter at the request of the Police Association, to inform you that we feel you have not only turned your back on us, but have hurt yourself in a way that it will take several years to recover.

Further be advised that in the furture, you can expect no offers of assistance from us in any way, and any requests from you for assistance will be met with an extremely negative reply.

We realize from past experience that you probably don't care one way or the other, however, we wish you luck in your future endeavors, as you will most likely need it.

Location of Social Sept. 18

Old-fashioned social Sept. 18

By Phyllis Chapman

The Sierra Madre Historical Society invites the community to an Old-Fashioned Social on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 18 from 3 to 6 p.m. This will be held on the front lawn of Dick and Elva Johnson's historic home at 397 W. Montecito.

The house, built in 1881 by attorney Percy Wilson, is one of Sierra Madre's oldest. Originally on five acres of land, the front lawn extended down to what is now Sierra Madre Blvd. with the rear property line at Highland Avenue. The Wilsons had four children and Mr. Wilson was an active community member and instrumental in the formation of the Sierra Madre Water Company and the Sierra Madre Library.

Early residents such as the Blumer and Twycross families rented the home while their own houses were being built. In 1887, upon moving to Los Angeles, Wilson sold to Augustus Bixby. The Bixbys lived there until 1906 when the Willard Evans became owners. Evans cut through Montecito Ave. and subdivided a good portion of the property.

The Johnsons purchased the home to have ample room for their family of five children almost 20 years ago, saving it from being torn down and replaced by a modern home. Over the years they have lovingly restored it and several movies have been made there.

There is no charge for the social. Light refreshments will be served along with coffee, tea and the old-fashioned lemonade for which the Historical Society has become famous.

The Sierra Madre Historical Society was formed Apr. 21, 1931, the year Sierra Madre was celebrating its 50th birthday. Annetta Carter, widow of Sierra Madre founder, N.C. Carter, was named Honorary President. She also drafted the organization's By-Laws and Constitution. Harold Carew, Star-News book editor and historical author, was elected first president.

The society has been active over the years in preserving our city's heritage and in educating the public about Sierra Madre's history. Members conduct an annual historic bus tour of the town and present interesting historical programs. They mounted a community effort to build the Kersting Court bell tower to permanently house the historic school bell used from 1886 to the late 1960s. They were also instrumental in the restoration of Sierra Madre's oldest home, Richardson House built in the 1860s and Lizzie's Trail Inn of 1913 vintage. These museums are open, free to the public, Sundays from 1 to 4 p.m.

They have published two definitive books about Sierra Madre's history. "Annals of Sierra Madre," published in 1950, which started with some valuable accounts from early pioneers, and although it is now out of print, is still available at the local library. In 1976, for our country's Bicentennial, they published "Sierra Madre Vistas," a pictorial history of our town. Copies may be purchased from the society.

The group solicits everyone's support. Preserving our heritage and keeping Sierra Madre the kind of place we love is the responsibility of all of us. As an example of what the society has done to use its clout, it helped to save our old City Hall from being torn down and replaced by a parking lot.

Please join us for a pleasant Sunday afternoon and bring friends and guests.

The society meets regularly on the first Monday of the month at the Woman's Club at 7:30 p.m. Another interesting program is scheduled for the Oct. 3 meeting.

Free screening open to all adults

A few moments of time and no money at all . . . that's what it will take for any adult to participate in a cancer education and screening program to be held this week and next in Sierra Madre.

To make an appointment for the screening clinic, people must attend one of the education sessions to be held at 10 a.m. and again at 11 a.m. Monday, Sept. 12, in the Senior Center in Memorial Park.

Screenings will be scheduled Tuesday-Thursday, Sept. 20-22, between 9 a.m. and 3:30 p.m., by appointment only.

Women's screenings will take about 10-15 minutes, and will provide breast, thyroid and rectal exams with a hemoccult test. Pap smear and pelvic exams will be available to women who have not had these tests in three years.

Men's screenings will take about five minutes for testicular, prostate and rectal exams.

The mobile screening unit will offer completely private facilities for testing.

The clinic is jointly managed by the City of Hope Medical Center and the Northeast Los Angeles County Chapter of the American Cancer Society.

The mobile screening clinic visit was arranged through the Senior Citizens Club of Sierra Madre, according to Joseph Delgatto Sr., spokesperson.

Anyone 18 years of age and up may participate. People may attend the education sessions without opting to sign up for the screening clinics.

ROTARY CLUB BARBECUE SCHEDULED — Making final plans for the Rotary Club Early California Barbecue are Gerhard Hahn, food chairman and Steve Knight, club president. The barbecue will be held Sept. 10 at the Monrovia Nurseries in Azusa.

SO MANY WINES SO LITTLE TIME

By LANCE LUKENBILL
Instructor, Society of Wine Educators

Just how important is the vintage year when selecting relatively inexpensive wines? Well, you might begin to answer this question by reminding yourself that all rosés, almost all white wines, and many light red wines are best consumed when young. Any additional aging in the bottle serves only to diminish their charm and freshness. Secondly, in the selection of less expensive wines, vintages are of less importance for a shipper's regional wines than for individual estates. Shippers tend to blend their wines for the sake of consistency while estates' unblended products may vary. All told, vintage years are more important for expensive wines.

In general, the more information you have about a product the better you are able to judge it. The same is true for wines and how they are bottled. However, if you are still confused by all the details, then the helpful staff at Kloke's Fine Wines & Spirits can shed some light on the subject. We carry a variety of domestic and imported wines, beers and champagnes and are well qualified to explain them all to you. Come by 2450 E. Foothill, Mon.-Thurs., 9-9; Fri. & Sat. 9-10; Sun. 10-7. Tel. 795-9194.

HANDY HINT: Consult a vintage chart to aid in the selection of fine wines.

ADVICE A POSTERIORI

by Joe Delgatto

In case you've forgotten your high school Latin, "a posteriori" means, roughly, "after the event."

And that's the kind of advice I'm giving you here. After the event, which in this case is the Labor Day holiday.

Naturally, I personally don't know exactly how much you had to eat, what to drink, how much ice cream and soft drinks you and your family consumed. Nor where. How could I know now, a priori (before the event, that is) where you've been?

Maybe you stayed home, loafed and invited your soul, and dribbled or dropped a bit of this or that on some clean clothes.

Maybe you went out on a picnic, sat in some grass.

Maybe you visited, or golfed, or fished, or what have you.

No matter. This, as a cleaner with years of experience ad hoc (concerning this sort of thing), I can tell you. Every holiday increases soiling and staining of clothes.

And this too I can tell you: The sooner you clean soiled or stained clothing, the less chance you take of letting harm befall it.

So I recommend to you, PDQ (not Latin, but well understood by all articulate Americans) is how you should

Sierra Madrean on symphony board

Maarse shares WWII experiences

"Sierra Madreans are so fortunate to have the Pasadena Symphony---we don't have to drive all the way downtown," Jacob Maarse extoled the benefits of the organization for whom he's a board member and an avid supporter.

The Sierra Madrean speaks with a slight Dutch accent which remains from his first two decades of life in the Netherlands.

Maarse is also a supporter of Daniel Lewis who resigned recently as conductor of the Pasadena Symphony and blames the media for blowing the disagreement between Lewis and the symphony board members out of proportion.

"I have great respect for Daniel Lewis. He has respect from the orchestra. He's done beautiful things but the orchestra has also done great things for Daniel Lewis. He's a great personal friend of mine," Maarse said last week. Maarse's present life here is very different from his native Holland, particularly the harrowing experience of being under Nazi rule during the WWII years.

"Before the war I would go with my father to Amsterdam. We heard Wilhelm Mengenberg, the greatest conductor in northwest Europe. Then during the war there were no concerts, probably because most of the orchestra were Jewish."

He remembers great deprivation during the war but explains that he and his family were lucky because they lived out in the country near the family nursery and they could grow their own vegetables. People in the cities were not that lucky and often went hungry. "We had no bread but we grew potatoes and beans."

He remembers seeing "dog fights" between planes above him and hearing strafing nearby since they were located near Schiphol Airport.

"My father was in the underground and we published clandestine newspapers. Under a carpet in our home we had an opening where we kept an old-fashioned radio and the map of Russia." As they heard about the progression of the war they would keep track of the battles with pins on the map.

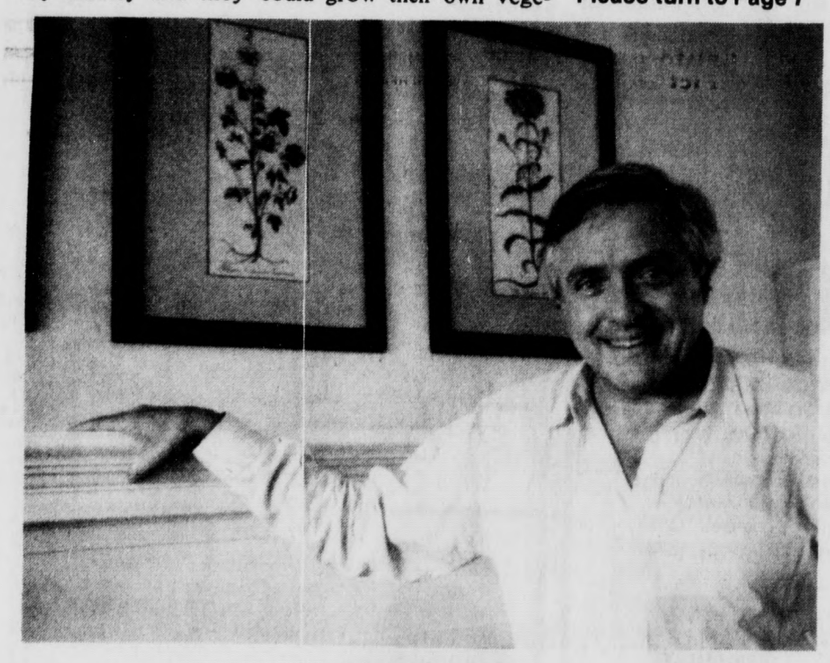

"I get goosebumps when I hear Beethoven's 5th Symphony because that was the opening theme of Radio Orange who reported the news on shortwave."

Wasn't his family fearful of being so actively involved in the Underground Movement? "Everybody did it," Maarse answered, shrugging his shoulders.

"The Germans became too vicious and too dangerous. After awhile we became more careful and put on no demonstrations because they would shoot people on sight for that sort of thing."

Maarse explained that in a town the size of Sierra Madre they would choose 100 of the prominent people in town, including councilmembers and other town leaders, and publish that list. After any aggressive action, the top 10 would be shot in

Thanks for giving your appliances the afternoon off.

The electricity supply in our town is like that which runs a model electric train. When the electric load is evenly distributed throughout the day, there's usually enough power to go around. But on hot afternoons, office and home air conditioners are added. And dryers. And ovens. And other appliances. And the total electric load could get too heavy. So use your air conditioner sparingly. When you're home, please set it no lower than 78°. When you go out, turn it to 85° or higher. And please give your appliances the afternoon off, too. That way you can help lighten the peak load and help provide enough electricity to go around all day long. And we can defer the building of new power plants...and help keep electric bills down. You really do have the power. So please give your appliances the afternoon off.

Please help lighten the load.

Heritage House features grand opening specials

A grand opening celebrating the remodeling of Heritage House Stationery will be held Sept. 15, 16, and 17. At 10 a.m. on Sept. 15 there will be ribbon-cutting ceremonies with Mayor Paul Stuart, Rev. Harvey Moore of the First Presbyterian Church and the Ambassadors of the Monrovia Chamber of Commerce participating.

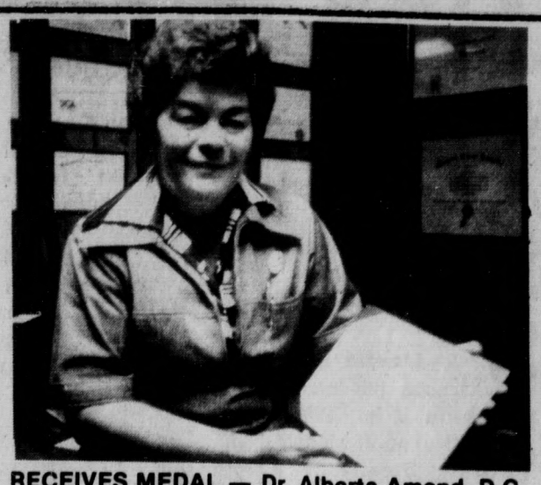

Carl Graves and Bill Heller established Heritage House in the building built in the early 1900s at 521 Myrtle Ave. in Monrovia on July 27, 1978. They began in a single store, then took over the store adjacent to them. Now they have further expanded their store and remodeled the front of their establishment.

Care Bear, the American Greetings New Character, will be present during the three-day celebration to greet people and hand out helium balloons. Door prizes will be awarded and the winners need not be present. A 25% discount on everything in the store will be offered throughout the grand opening.

Carl Graves said that this is their way of saying, "Thank you Monrovia and all our customers for allowing us to grow and expand. We are thanking the community by offering the 25% discount."

lications over the past twenty years. Her most recent endeavors have been on the subject of thoroughbred racing, her work having appeared in several issues of "The Thoroughbred of California."

She is close to completing a book about racing which she has been working on intermittently the past three years. Dearest to her heart, however, is poetry, a form of expression which Elaine describes as "relaxation, recreation and emotional release."

Her most cherished accomplishment, she says, is a poem written in tribute to the late "Silky Sullivan," the famous "come-from-behind" horse who died in 1977. The poem was published in "The Thoroughbred," and is now engraved in its entirety on a large bronze plaque representing Silky's permanent monument which is part of the "winners' circle" at Golden Gate Fields Race Track near San Francisco.

Elaine and husband, Tony, have been residents of Hastings Ranch for the past 22 years, and have four children, two of whom, Gemma and Mark, are residents of Sierra Madre. Son, Lee, is very active in Sierra Madre's baseball league, and Matthew is a sophomore at La Salle High School.

Elaine is also publicity chairman of the La Salle Parents' Association.

Expert of the week . . Jerry De Palma is 'metal man'

Jerry De Palma

Jerry De Palma seems to know just about everything there is to know about working with sheet metal. He should. He's been working in that field for for almost three decades.

De Palma and his wife, Peggy, incorporated Sierra Sheet Metal last year and are operating out of a Monrovia location, although they live in Sierra Madre. Peggy is president and bookkeeper of the firm, and also serves as bookkeeper for Ash Buchan at Apex Plastering.

This "metal man" has a variety of available functions such as copings, flashings, rain gutters, all sorts of welding jobs, and he also has a heating and air conditioning license.

"I got into sheet metal when I was 21-22 years old when I attended evening classes at Southgate High School." He served an apprenticeship through Local 108 in Los Angeles and worked for a couple of firms for years before striking out on his own. For awhile he served L.A. County in the solar experiment program and notes that solar has a good future, primarily in heating swimming pools and spas and in hot water heating here in Southern California. "When you go into colder climates, it's good for space heating," he says.

De Palma was born in Pasadena and raised in the Firestone and Forest Park areas. He attended both Pasadena Junior College and Compton College which, at that time, was a junior college, also, he says.

He has lived in Sierra Madre for about 22 years.

Need a sheet metal job? Call Jerry at 355-7920 or 358-1220.

COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES
DEPT. OF THE TREASURER & TAX COLLECTOR
DELINQUENT TAX LIST 1983

Pursuant to Sections 3381 through 3385, Revenue and Taxation Code, the Published Delinquent List in and for the County of Los Angeles, State of California, has been divided and distributed to various newspapers of general circulation published in said County, for publication of a portion thereof in each of said newspapers.

Delinquent tax list in and for the County of Los Angeles, State of California.

I, H. B. ALVORD, Tax Collector of the County of Los Angeles, State of California, being first duly sworn on oath, say to the best of my knowledge and belief, that the total amount due for taxes, assessments and other charges levied in the year 1982 for the fiscal year 1982-1983 were unpaid at 5 o'clock p.m., June 30, 1983 on the real property shown in the attached list.

This property, except that portion previously sold to the State and not redeemed, was by operation of law sold to the State of California on June 30, 1983.

The amount shown in dollars and cents opposite the description of the property is the amount for which it was sold to the State. Such real property may be redeemed by the payment of the amount of sold taxes together with such additional penalties and fees as prescribed by law, or may be redeemed under an installment plan of redemption at the office of the Tax Collector at 225 North Hill Street, Los Angeles, California 90012.

The name which precedes each parcel number refers to the name of the assessee. Where no name appears, the name is the same as that of the last assessee shown above.

Dated the first day of September, 1983.

H. B. ALVORD
Tax Collector of the County of Los Angeles

IMPORTANT NOTICE

Taxpayers who have disposed of real property since March 1, 1983, may find their names listed for the reason that present owners have failed to pay taxes, and according to the law, the name appearing on the 1982-1983 roll must be advertised.

From Behind the Wire
by Ed Colucci

Watch out for Rosemead High this year because they are coming on strong. They are picked to win the Mission Valley League.

And don't forget, I picked those Wildcats from Monrovia to really do it. What we saw last year was enough to pick them up on top. They have a good balanced team that goes, goes, goes.

Attention, Katie Strong: South Lake Tahoe will play host to "The World's Toughest Triathlon," Sept. 10, an athletic spectacle that boasts the sport's most difficult course, the natural beauty of Lake Tahoe and the largest purse in the history of triathlon events.

Sponsored by the South Lake Tahoe Marketing Council, a local organization formed to promote special functions at the lake, this event boasts a $25,000 purse, making "The World's Toughest Triathlon" also the most lucrative.

The Fourth Annual Sunkist® Orange Soda/ Morey Boogie® bodyboard Pro/Am Championships were held Saturday, Sept. 3, at the municipal pier in Oceanside. The largest cash purse in bodyboarding history, $6000, was distributed among the winning professionals.

Huntington Bank opens branch

Huntington Bank, headquartered in Arcadia, opened its third branch in San Gabriel Thursday, Sept. 1, marking the establishment of the first independent bank in that city.

Michele Maynard, long-time banking professional with Huntington Bank, has been promoted to Manager at the new San Gabriel branch.

"Our motto at Huntington Bank is 'Dedicated to Excellence'," said President H. Richard Closson. "Our choice of these people to serve San Gabriel customers fits that motto and furthers it, we believe."

lescent facility. Another possibility is short term care such as stroke rehabilitation and post surgery recuperation. Retaining acute care licensure is an option that will have to be considered by the board."

How soon will the final decision come? "By the end of September," Harris predicts. "Change could take place very quickly or over several months."

He explains that two "financial people" are going over the books very carefully now and job analyses are being completed.

"We must solve the cash flow problems. Without major changes we can't come to a break-even point and major changes cannot come about immediately. After we've assessed the physical situation we need to refurbish the hospital. We will do one-half of the hospital at a time."

Harris says one of his goals is to give "new spark" to the auxiliary. "Auxiliary and community relations are absolutely vital. We have two candy stripers now working in geriatric care. They are enthused and the patients are enthused."

How many beds are currently being used at the hospital? Twenty-five out the possible 49 beds, Harris answers.

To what does Harris attribute this immediate increase in usage?

"Word is out that Methodist has the facility and there's renewed hope."

Harris lives in La Crescenta, and he and his wife of seven years are expecting their first child.

He was born and raised in the San Fernando Valley, received his first training at Valley College then continued at Cal State L.A. with BA and Masters degrees in nursing and nursing administration.

"It's good to see men entering fields traditionally dominated by women and vice versa. I believe it stimulates all professions and people involved get along better," Harris remarks.

He began his nursing career at St. Vincent's Hospital in L.A. and had his first management job at Verdugo Hills Hospital. He was at Hollywood Presbyterian for a year in the house supervisor role, then joined Methodist Hospital in 1980 in the assistant director role.

"Prior to my new responsibilities I don't think I'd ever been to Sierra Madre. I'm just delighted. I love the town and enjoy the hospital . . . I still feel very new but I'm looking forward to being able to continue working here. No matter what's done with the facility, ultimately, our goal is to make sure it's done in the very best way possible."
